(1) To a health care provider who believes, in good faith, that the information is necessary for diagnosis or treatment of that individual in an emergency; or

(2) To public health authorities in order to carry out their functions as described in this title and titles 21 and 23, and rules promulgated under those titles. the release, transfer, access or disclosure of confidential health care information described in subsection (b) of this section or under other applicable law.

(f) Confidential health care information received, disclosed or held by the HIE shall not be subject to subpoena directed to the HIE or RHIO unless the following procedures have been completed: (i) the person seeking the confidential health care information has already requested and received the confidential health care information from the health care provider that was the original source of the information; and (ii) a determination has been made by the superior court upon motion and notice to the HIE or RHIO and the parties to the litigation in which the subpoena is served that the confidential health care information sought from the HIE is not available from another source and is either relevant to the subject matter involved in the pending action or is reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence in such pending action. Any person issuing a subpoena to the HIE or RHIO pursuant to this section shall certify that such measures have been completed prior to the issuance of the subpoena.

(g) Nothing herein shall interfere with or impact upon any rights or obligations imposed by the Workers Compensation Act as contained in title 28, chapters 29 through 38, of these General Laws.

5-37.7-8. Security. -- The HIE must be subject to at least the following security procedures:

(a) Authenticate the recipient of any confidential health care information disclosed by the HIE pursuant to this chapter pursuant to rules and regulations promulgated by the agency.

(b) Limit authorized access to personally identifiable confidential health care information to persons having a need to know that information; additional employees or agents may have access to de-identified information;

(c) Identify an individual or individuals who have responsibility for maintaining security procedures for the HIE;

(e) Take no disciplinary or punitive action against any employee or agent for bringing evidence of violation of this chapter to the attention of any person.

5-37.7-9. Secondary disclosure. -- Any confidential health care information obtained by a provider participant pursuant to this chapter may be further disclosed by such provider participant with or without authorization of the patient participant to the same extent that such information may be disclosed pursuant to existing state and federal law, without regard to the source of the information.

5-37.7-10. Patient’s rights. -- Pursuant to this chapter, a patient participant who has his or her confidential health care information transferred through the HIE shall have the following rights:
(a) To obtain a copy of his or her confidential health care information from the HIE;

(d) To terminate his or her participation in the HIE in accordance with rules and regulations promulgated by the agency; and
(e) To request to amend his or her own information through the provider participant.

5-37.7-11. Immunity. -- Any health care provider who relies in good faith upon any information provided through the HIE in his, her or its treatment of a patient, shall be immune from any criminal or civil liability arising from any damages caused by such good faith reliance.
This immunity does not apply to acts or omissions constituting negligence or reckless, wanton or intentional misconduct.

5-37.7-12. Reconciliation with other authorities. -- (a) This chapter shall only apply to the HIE system, and does not apply to any other private and/or public health information systems utilized in Rhode Island, including other health information systems utilized within or by a health care facility or organization.
(b) As this chapter provides extensive protection with regard to access to and disclosure of confidential health care information by the HIE, it supplements, with respect to the HIE only, any less stringent disclosure requirements, including, but not limited to, those contained in chapter 37.3 of this title, the health insurance portability and accountability act (HIPAA) and regulations promulgated thereunder, and any other less stringent federal or state law.
(c) This chapter shall not be construed to interfere with any other federal or state laws or regulations which provide more extensive protection than provided in this chapter for the confidentiality of health care information. Notwithstanding such provision, because of the extensive protections with regard to access to and disclosure of confidential health care information by the HIE provided for in this chapter, patient authorization obtained for access to or disclosure of information to or from the HIE or a provider participant shall be deemed the same authorization required by other state or federal laws including information regarding mental health (the Rhode Island mental health law, Rhode Island general laws section 40.1-5-1 et seq.); HIV (Rhode Island general laws section 23-6-17); sexually transmitted disease (Rhode Island general laws sections 23-6-17 and 23-11-9); alcohol and drug abuse (Rhode Island general laws section 23-1.10-1 et seq., 42 U.S.C. section 290dd-2) or genetic information (Rhode Island general laws section 27-41-53, Rhode Island general laws section 27-20-39 and Rhode Island general laws section 27-19-44).

5-37.7-13. Penalties – Attorneys' fees for violations. -- (a) Civil penalties. Anyone who violates the provisions of this chapter may be held liable for actual and exemplary damages.
(b) Criminal penalties. Anyone who intentionally and knowingly violates the provisions of this chapter shall, upon conviction, be fined not more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000) per patient, per violation, or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both.
(c) Commission of crime. The civil and criminal penalties in this section shall also be applicable to anyone who obtains confidential health care information maintained under the provisions of this chapter through the commission of a crime.
(d) Attorneys' fees. Attorneys' fees may be awarded at the discretion of the court, to the successful party in any action under this chapter.

5-37.7-14. Waivers void. -- Any agreement purporting to waive the provisions of this chapter is declared to be against public policy and void.

5-37.7-15. Severability. -- If any provision of this chapter is held by a court to be invalid, that invalidity shall not affect the remaining provisions of the chapter, and to this end the provisions of the chapter are declared severable.

SECTION 3. This act shall take effect on March 1, 2009.
